Hello,

I am writing to express my extreme concern, and outrage at the proposition to irradiate ALL fresh fruit and vegetables. This is an utter disgrace.

It is about time those that think this crap up actually do some research. If they did, they would understand that the more you manipulate and mess with food, the unhealthier it becomes.

The closer our food is to nature, without ANY interference from man, the more nourishing and beneficial it is to our health and the health of this planet.

The stupidity of this proposal astounds me, and has me wondering: are you actually trying to attack the human race in every facet of their lives, with the blatant intention to kill us all?

By all means irradiate your own food if you feel it would benefit you, but DO NOT presume to take away my right to choose.

I DO NOT CONSENT!

Yours sincerely
