Submission A1193: Irradiation as a phytosanitary measure for all fresh fruit and vegetables

Categories:

[REDACTED]

There is evidence that irradiated food has adverse outcomes in animal studies. Food is our primary medicine please reconsider irradiating it, I don't think the risks outweigh the benefits.

Also as a herbalist I would like to have a guarantee that any raw material I use in making medicines has not been irradiated.

Please conduct further research before making this rule

Yours faithfully,
