Submission Text:	Contrary to the law under which it is sold I have consumed internally both Hemp Seed Oil and Hemp Seeds although labels on both products clearly state these products are only for external use on the skin. Australia and New Zealand are possibly the ONLY two countries in the whole World where consumption of low THC products is not permitted by law!!!! I have noticed absolutely NO ill effects from consumption of both these products. In fact consumption of both these products seems to lead to a slight feeling of relaxation but the effect is very subtle indeed and is hardly noticeable!!!! I see absolutely NO reason why such products should remain illegal to sell for human consumption and most sensible people simply ignore the warning labels currently affixed to such products!!!!
