Submission to FSANZ Proposal P1007: Primary Production and Processing Requirements for Raw Milk Products (Australia Only) 1st Assessment Report

ADPF supports the FSANZ preferred approach – namely to amend the current dairy processing requirements in the Code to allow for the production and import of raw milk products that meet the definition of Category 1 and 2 products. This support is dependent on further work being undertaken to ensure:

- Better definition of category 2 and 3 products
- Validated and verifiable pathogen control measures at farm level for category 1 and 2 products
- Clearly defined and verifiable processes to manage the risks from imported raw milk products

The dairy industry does not support the production and sale of Category 3 products. The reputation of the Australian dairy industry for consistently producing safe products is of paramount importance. Category 3 products present too great a risk to the dairy industry's reputation.

ADPF also supports the submission provided by Dairy Australia.

Kind regards

Peter
